

Building Project - ATEK's Center for Operations & Training

Background:

ATEK: A Quechua acronym that translates as "The association that shines the gospel to the Quechua-speaking world." ATEK works primarily among the 1.5 million speakers of Cusco Quechua. This represents 30% of all indigenous speakers in Peru. ATEK works to promote Scripture use through its literacy program, marriage workshops, writing classes and more.

The church is well established but is lacking in maturity and depth. The Quechua church is asking ATEK for help.

Present Realities:

ATEK is dedicated to training trainers in various literacy, family, church and leadership ministries. There is no room for the training events nor for other meetings that ATEK regularly hosts.

In order for ATEK to be able to help the Quechua church, they need to become a sustainable trainer of trainers and resource organization. ATEK needs a facility where they can train those trainers who then serve out in the rural communities.

Opportunities

ATEK is in need of teams to be involved in the various building phases of the centre in addition to raising the required project funds (project components listed below).
